Guidance for oversight of flight data analysis programs (FDAPs)

Date of Issue:	August 2024
Revision No:	Second Edition
Document Ref. No.:	ESA-04
Owner:	European Aviation System Planning Group (EASPG)

The first edition of this guideline was approved by RASG-EUR, as part of IE-REST/IE-FDG/02 deliverables. The current (second) edition was developed by the EASPG Regional Expert Safety Group (RESG) following the Decision 5/7 of the fifth meeting of the European Aviation System Planning Group (EASPG) that took place in the ICAO EUR/NAT premises in Paris, France, from 29 November to 1 December 2023.

It was agreed with initial IE-FDG recommendation to the use the documents, developed by the European Authorities Coordination Group on Flight Data Monitoring (EAFDM), as guidance material on the related topics. Hence, the civil aviation authorities, members of EASPG, are recommended to review and consider usage of the document located on the following link (Version 1, January 2015, republished April 2017): <https://www.easa.europa.eu/en/downloads/18169/en>

Since the text of the document remained unchanged from 2015 publication, the Russian version of the document prepared, for convenience, by the IE-FDG remains valid and available for Russian-speaking States.

Disclaimer

This document is intended to provide guidance for civil aviation authorities, and aircraft operators regarding implementation of relevant ICAO provisions and EASPG recommendations.

It is not intended to supersede or replace existing materials produced by the Civil Aviation Authorities (CAA) or in ICAO SARPs. The distribution or publication of this document does not prejudice the CAA's ability to enforce existing National regulations. To the extent of any inconsistency between this document and the National/International regulations, standards, recommendations or advisory publications, the content of the National/International regulations, standards, recommendations and advisory publications shall prevail.
