Transferability is Key to Unlock the Global Potential of AMM

This must happen, recognizing innovation around the full ecosystem

Aviation is global.
AAM has a global potential.
Transferability between the different markets is vital.

AAM resources are limited.
Industry is pre-revenue.
Need to support competing systems limits progress.

AAM innovates.
Innovation needs performance-based regulations.

Aircraft certification comes first.
Whole ecosystem is key to launch.

Today, we see differing frameworks and approaches, but we need to agree on main pillars internationally.
The work of ICAO is key to facilitate transparent markets with comparable safety standards offered to the passengers.
